Double Shooting, Stabbing Holiday Weekend

James H. Freeman, 73, Dies, Mrs. Kathleen Lassen Shot in Head

Law enforcement authorities have noted that the Christmas holiday often is accompanied by a great deal of violence. This Christmas weekend in the Quad-Cities was no exception.

James H. Freeman, 73, of 1754 Chestnut street apparently shot and killed himself at 2:30 a.m. Sunday at his home after shooting and seriously wounding 49-year-old Mrs. Kathleen Lassen.

In a separate case, Robert C. Var, 21, of 2229 Iowa street was stabbed seriously in the chest at 12:45 a.m. yesterday in a tavern parking lot in the 300 block of Madison avenue, Madison.

Mrs. Lassen is in poor condition today. Causal is fair.

Police were summoned by telephone in the shooting episode by Mrs. Lassen even though she had been shot in the right temple and was bleeding profusely. She opened the door of the Chestnut street residence to the officers when they arrived.

Asked who shot her, Mrs. Lassen pointed to the kitchen, where police found Mr. Freeman lying in a corner, bleeding from a bullet wound in the head. He was pronounced dead there by Deputy Coroner Robert Thomas.

In collapsing, Mr. Freeman is believed to have dropped a .25-caliber pistol, which was found near his right foot.

"Jim shot me, Jim shot me," the woman said repeatedly. Police were unable to obtain further details from Mrs. Lassen, housekeeper in the Freeman residence.

She was hysterical and had to be restrained, they reported. She was placed under sedation after being taken by ambulance and admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment; police contacted relatives. She was transferred to Firmine Division Hospital, St. Louis.

Officers attributed the apparent suicide-attempted murder to an argument of unknown origin. They found bottles about the home and theorized that there had been drinking during the evening.

Threat Voiced
A police spokesman said Mr. Freeman had threatened to kill Mrs. Lassen in an argument occurring last Tuesday. The disturbance call was settled without arrests at that time.

Mr. Freeman was regarded as an expert locksmith and had once operated Frank's Key Shop in the 1800 block of State street while the proprietor was ill.

He currently had been operating a key shop at his home address. He retired eight years ago from General Steel Industries, where he worked 20 years as a machinist.

Born in Dallas, Tex., he lived here 30 years. He was a member of Masonic Triple Lodge 835, the Alford Street lodge of St. Louis consistory. His wife, Annie, preceded him in death two years ago.

Survivors are a brother, Crockett Freeman, Kleberg, Tex., and three sisters, Mrs. Jack (Dorothy) Goodman, Dallas, Mrs. A. J. (Dimple) Clanshaw, Dell City, Okla., and Mrs. Sam (Nell) Cumby, Grand Prairie, Tex.

His remains were taken to a Granite City funeral home, and arrangements are given in the obituary column of today's issue.

An effort to hide the early Sunday stabbing from police was made by seven men found in the Johnny Lewis tavern parking lot, 2335 1/2 Iowa street, last night.

HEAVY TRAFFIC AND RAIN plus the holiday season rush on Christmas Eve jammed the Nameoki-Johnson-Fehling road intersection. A Press-Record staffer approaching the intersection from Pontoon road shortly before noon Friday took 27 minutes to get through the mass of traffic. The city is hopeful that bids for widening the roadway to four lanes will be sought next month by the state.

Students May Now Apply For Park Jobs Next Summer

Taking advantage of the holiday season with most of the area's college students at home, the Granite City park district will this week accept applications for next summer's job.

Park Supt. Harold Brown said the park district office in Wilson Park at Benton and Oregon avenues will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Thursday to accept applications from college and high school students.

More than 50 jobs are to be filled for next summer's park district programs.

These include the position of swimming pool manager, 25 recreation leaders and aides, 10 concession stand workers, ten pool lifeguards, six bathroom employees and a cashier for the pool office.

The applications will be reviewed by the park commissioners and Brown, and preliminary interviews are to be conducted by Brown and Mrs. Helen Bjorklund.

Early registration for summer employment was successful last year, when it was tried for the first time.

Combined efforts of the night personnel at St. Elizabeth Hospital, a doctor and Granite City police made Christmas a happy one for a lonely patient in the hospital. At 1 a.m. Christmas morning, nurses, noting that their patient was feeling blue and sobbing as she had no local relatives, decided to obtain a Christmas tree.

They asked the help of a doctor and police who found a tree at the Optimist club's sales lot in the 200 block of Madison Avenue. One nurse went home for a bucket of dirt to hold a tree, and personnel from all departments "borrowed" decorations, tinsel and ornaments from other trees in the hospital.

When the patient was aroused at 3 a.m. for medication, the staff surprised her with the trimmed tree. She told them it was the nicest Christmas she ever had.

MORE ABOUT Double Shooting

Madison Avenue at Fourth street. The alleged victim, who may not have been aware of the wound or its seriousness, police said.

Alerted that patrons had left the tavern to fight in the lot, officers hurried to the scene and were told by members of the group that there had been "no fight." The assertion was that they had been "just fooling around."

Cuvar had a small amount of blood on the front of his shirt and said he "had a slight nose-bleed," police related. After questioning Lewis, who said no fighting had taken place inside the tavern, police instructed the men to leave the area and drive home; most live in Granite City.

While assisting one member of the group whose auto would not start, police noted Cuvar, a passenger, slumped over in the front seat, with a larger amount of blood on his shirt than seen previously.

Upon opening his shirt they found a stab wound in the left side of the chest and had him taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted.

Those still present at the parking lot were taken to the Madison police station for questioning, and others were apprehended.

License Plate Charge

Lawrence W. Jones, Edwardsville, was arrested at 1 a.m. today at Niedringhaus and Grand avenues on a charge of improper display of state license plates. He was summoned for a hearing by Jan. 7.

Conduct Charge Filed

David Knight, 20, of 219a Washington Avenue, was arrested at 2:15 a.m. Sunday at 215a Lee Avenue on a disorderly conduct charge.

During the morning with the assistance of Granite City police and Madison county sheriff's deputies. A jurisdictional dispute later developed with the sheriff's office but Madison authorities retained custody and deputies were withdrawn from the police office at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Hearings were to be held today for William Hayes, 22, of 1729 Olive street and Billy Joe Castle, 22, of 2118 Missouri Avenue. Each had been held in lieu of $25,000 bonds on aggravated battery and fighting charges.

Robert Cuvar and his brother, James Cuvar, 19, of 3615 Pontoon road were arrested for fighting. Richard Waggoner, 17, of 602 Chouteau Avenue, Mitchell, was charged with curfew violation.

The other two in the group were described by Madison police as unsuccessful "peace-makers" and were not arrested.

Court Fee Changes Safety Council Warns of To Start Jan. 1 Winter Traffic Hazards

A new fee schedule for filing cases in circuit court will go into effect Jan. 1.

A major change is in the fee for filing forcible entry and cases. A sliding scale will be substituted for a previous flat rate, ranging from $3 to $28, depending upon the amount of damages claimed for back rent or damages, if any.

Another change is in the fees for filing counter-claims. When a defendant files a counterclaim as part of his answer or otherwise, he shall pay a fee in an amount equal to the amount he would have been required to pay had he brought a separate action for the relief sought in the counterclaim, less the amount of the appearance fee, if that has been paid.

If the amount of money involved does not exceed $200, he will pay a $3 fee, the same as in a separate suit. But if the amount of money or damages or value of personal property shown in the counterclaim is more than $200, he must then pay a fee of $28.

The schedule is broken down into more specific cases designed to make a determination of a fee charge for a specific case easier.

One-Man Performance

Set Jan. 5 at SIU-SW

John Stuart Anderson, young British actor, will make two appearances at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern on Jan. 5, first at 1 p.m. in the Lovejoy memorial library auditorium and again at 4:30 p.m. at the Alton center auditorium.

"The Living Word," as Anderson's extensive one-man-theater repertoire program is billed, includes dramatic readings drawn from historical and fictional texts and from legendary and Biblical sources.

The production includes "Seraph and Prophet," a Biblical revue presenting some familiar and not-so-familiar dramatic episodes and humorous stories from the Old Testament, a fantasy on the legend of Orpheus entitled "Second Orpheus," and "The Crown of Days," the story of Sebastian, Roman soldier martyred by the Emperor Diocletian.

Born in Burma, Anderson served in the Royal Air Force and studied at the University of St. Andrews. He formed his own acting company and presented a series of his own mime plays on television, and then entered a repertory theater. The public is invited free to the performance and to receptions to follow.

Former Patient Files Suit Against Doctor

A mal-practice suit for $29,999 has been filed against Dr. M. Girard Baggot of Granite City by Gregory and Jeanette Weeks of Granite City in circuit court at Edwardsville.

The complaint alleges that on Oct. 14, 1963, Mrs. Weeks consulted Dr. Baggot and was told that she was pregnant. She claims that medicines for pregnancy were prescribed intermittently until May 28, 1964, when the doctor told her that she was not pregnant.

Mrs. Weeks alleges another doctor informed her that she had never been pregnant. The complaint alleges mal-practice and negligence, and that the medicines and experience had caused her to become nervous and suffer headaches, dizziness and weakness, and that the condition continues.

She seeks $24,999, and her husband is asking $5000 for medicines used and the cost of hiring domestic help for his wife.

Open Evenings

Highway traffic hazards during the New Year holiday season are multiplied tenfold due to the rush of party goers, more drunks and more people in too much of a hurry to be cautious, the Quad-City Safety Council warned today in urging motorists to be on the alert for inconsiderate and careless drivers.

Weather conditions and increased hours of darkness also add to the danger of driving during the New Year holiday period. To help avoid tragedy during the holiday, the Safety Council warns drivers on these points:

"To help avoid tragedy during the holidays, the Safety Council warns drivers on these points: 'Brakes—Test brakes for simultaneous gripping; any side pull brakes will be less effective. Check brakes at low speeds on every change of road surface to get the feel of their effectiveness.'"

"Chains—When the going gets slippery, why take chances? Put on your chains; they help traction, but don't depend on them to prevent slides."

"Windshield—Keep windshield and side and rear windows clear. Have prompt repairs made of defective wipers and defrosters."

"Load—Distribute load evenly for easier control on slippery surfaces."

Warm Up Engine

Starting—Warm up the engine to prevent its stalling at a critical time. Accelerate cautiously and steadily to avoid wheel spin on any slippery surface.

Driving—Be ten times as careful on ice as on dry pavement because the gripping force of tires is only one-tenth as great. Do everything gradually on slippery roads, whether applying brakes, feeding gas or turning.

Additional tips and hints offered by the safety council to reduce traffic hazards include:

Following distances—On slippery pavements keep a clear distance of two vehicle lengths in front for every 10 miles per hour.

Hills—Change your route, if possible, to avoid slippery hills and steep grades. Before starting up or down any hill, be sure the way is cleared of stalled or sliding vehicles. Use chains and reduce speed until over the hill.

Keep Out of Ruts

Tracks and Ruts—Try to keep out of car tracks and ruts. To cross them, decrease speed and cut across them sharply. If caught in deep ruts when a car is approaching, slow down, staying in the ruts if clearance permits. Don't cut to the right as this may whip the rear end into another vehicle.

Ice Traps—Watch out for icy patches on bridges and overpasses when a cold air underneath freezes the surface. A car is ready for icy shaded portions of hills, around curves and turns. Be wary when driving over new fallen snow for icy patches beneath.

Skidding—If you do begin to skid, turn in the direction in which the rear end swings. Do not slam on brakes and do not touch accelerator. Decelerate if you are driving a gear-shift car. As soon as skidding stops, brakes can be supplied in a series of quick, hard thrusts, or "stabs" breaking.

Rural Highways—When the condition of the shoulder along a slippery road is known, it is sometimes possible to get greater control by driving with the right wheels on the rough shoulder.

Narrow roads—If there is approaching traffic, come to a complete stop. Wave oncoming traffic to pass you before proceeding.

Watch for Children

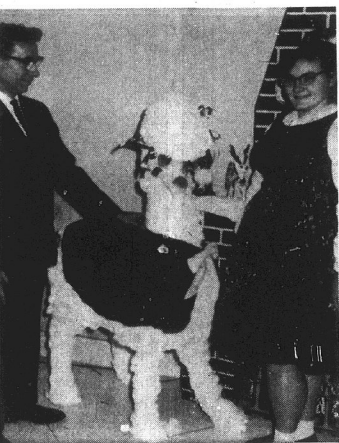

Pedestrians—Watch out for children on sleds and skis. Remember pedestrians can't get out of the way quickly because their traction is no better than yours.

Rush Hour Traffic—Be particularly careful when driving in heavy traffic between the hours of 4 and 7 p.m. when everybody is in a hurry and visibility is poor.

Stopping—Pump the brakes to keep the wheels from locking and starting a skid. Slow down gradually, not suddenly.

As an additional warning, the council pointed out that while social drinkers greatly outnumber the obviously intoxicated drivers, they account for many holiday traffic accidents. Just two cocktails can impair judgment and vision, and coffee does not help. Only time—as much as three hours—can eliminate alcohol from the bloodstream. As a result, motorists should watch out for the drinking driver, and not make the same mistake.

If you drink, don't drive, the council warns.

Grenesche Group Distributes Treats to 400 Youngsters

Christmas treats were distributed Thursday evening to nearly 400 youngsters in the Grenzer and Grenesche housing projects in Madison by the active, 20-member Grenesche Activity Organization headed by Charles Mandrell.

The group raised funds for the treats of candy and fruit by a series of fish fries and conducting candy sales. There also were several private donations, Mandrell said.

The organization in recent months has expanded to set up separate units for senior citizens, "small fry" and teenagers.

Venice's Red Devils, who are placed in the top bracket along with New Athens, are officially the No. 2 seeded team in the 16-team tournament.

Decatur Heads Visiting Mat Teams at GC

GRANITE CITY'S undefeated 138-pound wrestler, Mike Andria, appears to be on the bottom but actually has the hold on the Warriors' 145-pounder, Jim Valicoff (43). Andria has compiled a season mat record of 11-0.

Eight teams spark an impressive wrestling card in the fifth annual Granite City holiday wrestling tournament Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 29 and 30, in the GCHS gymnasium.

Defending state champion, Granite City is the top-seeded (138 pounds) and Fuchs sport 11-team, with last year's No. 4 111-0 season records.

Other competing schools are Bethalto, Champaign, East St. Louis, Edwardsville, Southwestern (St. Louis) and Wood River.

Only two tournament defending champions will be in the lineup for this year's tourney. Bill Fuchs, Granite City's runner-up in the state meet last year, will be defending his 95-pound class title and the Warriors' Jim Valicoff, last year's 138-pound titlist, will be competing in the 145-pound class.

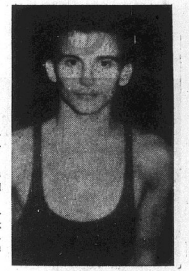

Curt Alexander of Edwardsville was runner-up last year and tourney champion two years ago in the 112-pound class.

Ben Cooper, Decatur, was the state champion wrestler in the 154-pound class last year but will be wrestling in the 165-pound class in the holiday meet.

Last year, Cooper had a season record of 24-1; this year, he sports a 6-0 mark.

Trojans No. 3 Seeded Team In Mater Dei Cage Tourney

Madison's cage Trojans faced a Staunton team in the first round of the Mater Dei (Breesee) 16-team holiday basketball tourney this morning.

Fresh from a consolation victory over Assumption in the first round of the tournament last week, the Trojans are seeded second in the upper bracket behind Highland's Bulldogs.

Madison is seeded No. 3 in the tourney.

Highland meets Althoff in the first round later today. The Bulldogs, who won the tournament last year, are the No. 1 seeded team in the tournament. Mater Dei, the host school, gets a ranking in the lower bracket of play.

Scoring Help

Neil Podoba and Gary Lusk, brother of Paul Lusk who recently left the cage team, are new-found scoring powers for the Trojans. Podoba hit for 22 points against Assumption in the consolation game and Lusk scored 17 against Lincoln in the first round of last week's tourney.

Dale Turner, who continues to lead all area scorers with a blazing 27-points-a-game average, and Ron Buter will be the ball-handlers for Madison. Podoba, Gary Lusk and Alton Rendell are the Trojans' "big men."

Madison, 4-3 on the season, is currently tied for the second spot in the Midwestern Conference with a record of 1-1. Highland and Cahokia also share second place with Madison, with records of 1-1.

The tournament runs today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The consolation championship, third place and championship games will be played Wednesday evening, the tripleheader starting at 6 o'clock.

Barney Oldfield won the national auto racing championship in 1903.

Freeman 'Shoots' For Illini Scoring Record

Madison's Don Freeman is likely to become the all-time leading scorer in University of Illinois history, but the 6-foot-3-inch senior captain of Coach Harry Combes' "Fighting Illini" doesn't worry about records.

"Really, I haven't had much time to think about scoring records," Freeman said.

"We've had a pretty rugged schedule already this season and it won't get any easier once we get into the Big Ten. I'm looking forward to just one game at a time," the Madison high school graduate commented.

Freeman, after Illinois' first six games, is eighth in NCAA scoring and is averaging 29.5 points per game. He's scored 177 already. He will have at least 17 more games to play, and 18 if the Illini advance to the finals of the E.C.A.C. Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden in New York tonight.

He needs 379 points, an average of 22.3 per game, to break John "Red" Kerr's season record of 556, if Illinois plays 17 more games. Should the Illini play 18 games, he'll need to average 21.1 a contest. Kerr set the mark in 1954.

As for the career record, Freeman has 538 points already and needs 402 more to break Dave Downey's mark of 1360. If he plays 17 more games he'll have to average 23.7; 22.4 if Illinois plays 18.

"I don't know if I can keep up the pace," he said. "I'm not in the best physical shape."

He has been plagued by an arthritic condition in his knees since high school. Despite heavy protective taping, he still plays in pain.

Knees Painful

"The doctors say that my knees are just older than I am," he explained.

"It hurts to play during the second half of every game and even after the game is over. I know that it won't feel better if I slow down, so I have to push harder."

Despite the handicap, the jumping-jack Freeman is shooting better than ever and grabbing more rebounds than during his first two seasons. He averaged 9.6 rebounds a game his sophomore year, 9.4 last year and 12.0 so far this year.

He shot 411 from the field his sophomore season (making 130 of 316) and 438 last year (178 of 365). This season he's hitting at a .438 clip (63-146) after coming off a 9-29 game against Wisconsin last week.

Shooting has improved mostly because of the fact that I've practiced hard during the summers, especially last summer," Freeman said.

"I worked on my lung shot and a running shot, something like a Billy McGill shot. But against Wisconsin my shooting was a disaster. I thought I was going into a slump. My regular shots weren't falling. It was like my sophomore year all over."

Don admits that he had trouble hitting the broad side of a barn door his sophomore year, but said he now has confidence in his shooting.

"It was quite a different view when I first came to Illinois," he said. "The University seemed so big and impersonal. I figured that I was going to have to be a team ball player and just play defense and rebound. Everyone here was an All-Stater. We were all big fish from small ponds."

But now he has blossomed into a great team leader. His teammates voted him captain and he's trying to do a good job. He's worked with most of the Illinois front line, giving shooting and general awareness tips.

Coach Harry Combes has been using Don at forward and guard and it's paid off in two straight wins.

"The more we play together the better we'll get," he said. "Every senior wants to leave on a winning team and I think we'll do it. I was pessimistic at the beginning of the school year, but now I know that we have the potential to play either the role of a contender or the spoiler in the Big Ten."

Still, Freeman and Co. has to get its passing set. One of the most sensational passers in the country last season, Don has had to get his young teammates used to behind-the-back flips, scoop tosses from a shooting position and bouncers between the legs of opposition defensive men.

"I don't throw some of the same passes I used last year because our young players didn't know when to expect what," he said. "I know that it's been to the team's disadvantage, but we've been working on it and still will."

Don would consider a pro basketball future, but isn't counting on one. A commerce major, Don feels his size and physical condition will be against him as a pro.

"Professional basketball wants the super stars, the really big men," he said. "I don't think they'd want me."

Enjoy Your Own Party

By carefully planning a buffet meal, a hostess can arrange to spend more time enjoying her guests and less time waiting on them.

In addition to planning the menu, the table appointments and the seating arrangement, you prepare food in advance whenever possible.

Buffet food should be easily served and eaten in comfort. If you do not have space for card tables or tray tables, let your guests eat lap-style from trays. With this arrangement they can move easily handle their plates and beverages, and they can sit wherever they wish in a friendly, informal atmosphere.

When they must hold dinner plates on trays, eliminate foods that must be cut with a knife. Also, plan to serve buttered bread or rolls.

The buffet table arrangement can be planned days in advance. For ease in picking up the food, have guests move from right to left. If convenient, place foods that require two serving pieces, first in order on the buffet table. Then people can help themselves before they pick up their plates. It is best to have a buffet table large enough to allow plenty of space between the different foods so that they can set their plates down while helping themselves if they wish.

Choose a dessert that can be prepared in advance and that will not be affected by delayed serving. Dessert plates are easier to handle than sherbet glasses.

When guests have finished their first course, you might have them remove their own dinner plates and help themselves to dessert instead of doing it yourself. Generally, they like to move around between courses, visiting with others. Serve coffee with either the meal or the dessert, or both.

An informal buffet can provide a memorable evening for you as well as your guests.

Choose Firewood Wisely

With the cold north wind blowing, many of you will be starting a fire in your fireplace. Nothing seems as warm and cozy as a blazing log and glowing embers in the fireplace.

The satisfactory performance of your fireplace depends to a great extent on the type of wood you use. Whether you buy wood from a commercial source or cut your own, the four important considerations are the kind, size, quality and moisture content of the wood.

The heating value of dry hardwood can be judged by its weight. Apple, hedge, hickory, oak and sugar maple are rated among the best fireplace woods. It is best not to stack firewood on the ground. Wood touching the soil soon decays, and decayed wood has less fuel value than sound wood.

To maintain a good fire in the fireplace you should use a heavy backlog, eight to ten inches in diameter. The other pieces need be only two to four inches in diameter. Then, to conserve heat, close the chimney damper to the point where there is only enough draft to carry the smoke up the chimney.

Archaeological Probe in GC Abandoned

A plan by state and area archaeologists to probe the construction site of the new Anchorage addition for proof that it was the location of an Indian farm village about 1000 years ago has been abandoned because of liability issues raised by insurance agents and attorneys for the contractor who is to construct the building.

James Porter, research associate of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology of Washington University, said representatives of the Cannon Construction Co. of Wood River, informed him they had been advised by attorneys and insurance agents not to assume the risk of liability for persons working on the archaeological project.

Porter said he had planned to follow grading operations at the project site in a search for artifacts and other evidence of the Indian village which was believed to have been located on the spot prior to 1000 A.D.

In addition, Porter said, he and other archaeologists, including a representative of the Illinois State Museum had planned to make "trench" excavations of about three feet wide and 30 feet long in an effort to locate evidence of the village "layout," building posts, cooking fires and, possibly, burial grounds.

According to Porter, permission from the contractor was necessary because the Granite City Housing Authority had signed a contract for the construction work and the contractor therefore has become liable for all operations on the property.

Data Will Be Lost

"It is a shame that the archaeological data from this area will be lost forever," Porter said, adding that "so many of the Indian farm villages have been wiped out by construction work in recent years that there are only a few such sites left."

Excavation of the outlying farm village sites is a component part of the archaeological investigation of the Cahokia Mounds section, Porter related, since hundreds of such villages produced the food that supported the center of the civilization on Monk's Mound and the other larger mound centers in the vicinity of Cahokia Mounds State Park.

The Cahokia Mound Indian civilization was so vast that its population ranged anywhere from 10,000 and 15,000 persons, Porter said, yet this particular Indian civilization disappeared completely for a reason yet undetermined.

Much of the history of the tribe can be determined from the artifacts of the farm villages in which the biggest part of the population lived and worked to support the main villages located on the mounds.

Porter said there is sufficient evidence to indicate the property at the Anchorage Homes site was the location of one of such farm villages. A large number of artifacts have been found on the surface, including chert (or flint) hoes up to 15 inches wide, some of them with flanges that fit on to wooden handles.

Bits of pottery, arrowheads and other items have been found in quantity sufficient to indicate that a village existed on the site now being graded for construction of the housing addition.

The archaeologist said that such farms are found in flat areas as well as on ridges, and in areas that are being chosen today as sites for residences and subdivisions. As a result, the grading and construction work has eliminated the potentiality of much archaeological data.

Knew About Area

David Morgan, executive director of the Granite City Housing Authority, said that he had told Porter quite some time ago that inspection of the plot could be made, but that after a contract was signed the matter became the responsibility of the contractor.

Morgan said the fact that the site has been recognized as an matter of record since 1962, and that Porter told him he had known about the area for at least a year.

"About a month ago, Porter came to me and we discussed the situation," Morgan said. "I gave him prints and maps of the site and told him they could go ahead with their work, but nothing was until after the contract had been signed.

"From that time on the matter was up to the contractor. I am not a lawyer and my attorneys and insurance agents have advised them against the project, since the contractor would be responsible for any kind of accident occurring on the property. And if anything happened, they could also sue the housing authority."

"No one is being uncooperative. I will do all I can to help such work. But since it has been known that this is an archaeological site for the past 23 years, something could have been done about it before this."

Porter is now in charge of the exploration of Monk's Mound and other mounds at Cahokia Mounds State Park. He said a number of "important finds" have been made in the area and that operations are to be expanded as soon as possible.

Prospect (5-2) First Obstacle for GC Warriors in Pontiac Tournament

Granite City's Fighting Warriors packed a so-so 3-4 season banner in their suitcases and traveled to the Pontiac tournament today.

The Warriors' first-round opponent will be Prospect of Mt. Prospect, tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. The Knights, under the direction of coach Dick Kinneman, currently sport a 5-2 record.

If the Warriors get past Prospect they will continue in the three-day, 16-team tournament toward the championship. If, however, they should lose, they could clinch the consolation title with three consecutive tourney wins.

The Knights have had some close games in the early part of the season. They lost their opener 58-55 to Libertyville, beat Niles North 54-44, lost to Arlington 65-64, downed Main South 66-65 and beat Deerfield 58-50.

Most recently, Prospect beat Glenbrook North 65-44 and upset Glenbrook South 74-61.

One Returning Letterman
With only one returning letterman in 6'3" junior forward Tom Lundstedt, Prospect is low on experience. And he saw only limited action last year.

Statistics show that Prospect is weak on shooting, as it has shot only .333 from the field. It is .600 from the foul line.

The Knights have more than the average amount of height in their starting lineup. Besides Lundstedt at the forward spot will be 6'4" junior Dave Kingman. Guards will be J. D. Thorne, a 6'0" senior, and Dan Agard, a 6'2" senior. At the center post will be Tom Beard, a 6'5" senior.

The sixth man in the Prospect lineup is 6'2" Craig Wolf. Their average court height is 6'3".

while the Warriors are barely over 6'1".

Lundstedt Top Scorer
Lundstedt leads the Knight scorers with a 19.2 average, and Thorne is next with a 12.4 mark. In rebounding, Lundstedt leads Thorne, 48 to 46.

The Warriors will take an improving team into the tourney. Pre-season estimates indicated that the Warriors would lack rebounding and scoring power.

Jim Hentzel, 5'11" guard, has led the Warriors in rebounding with consistent performances in each of the last four games. He is tied with Larry Ripka, 5'11" forward-guard, for the scoring lead. Each has an average of 13.2.

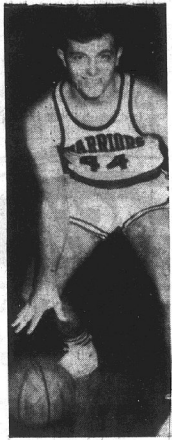

Elmer Wortham, a 6'2" forward, is third in scoring with a 12.1 clip and Terry Moore, 6'4" center, is fourth with 10.9 a game.

Granite City's season has been sparked by the recent scoring performances of Wortham/Ripka, O'Neill and Hentzel.

LaSalle-Peru, possibly Granite City's second opponent if both teams win, is currently 3-1 in a rebuilding season.

Although Granite City's current record is not too impressive, officials of the tourney figure the competition in the Southwestern Conference is of such caliber to give the Warriors one of the seeded spots in the upper bracket. Granite City's success in past holiday tournaments also may have been considered.

In the lower bracket, Lincoln (5-0) and Streator (6-0) are the top teams.

The new minimum security prison is a $4 million facility, located just east of Vienna. Two hundred prisoners will be housed there by early January. The present structure represents the first stage of a four-phase building program that will eventually house 1200 inmates in dormitories instead of cells. Guards there are unarmed. The site at present has no walls or fences.

A final report of the Illinois Racing Board for the year 1965 shows a total mutual handle for both harness and harness racing of $458,587,974.

The state's share in revenue from wagering, license and admissions totalled $30,501,428. The 1964 figures were: Mutual handle, $425,063,731; revenue, $27,894,172.

The report lists 307 days of racing for turf meetings at seven Illinois tracks. Harness racing was held on 242 days at seven meetings.

Attendance at racing events totalled 6,415,000 in 1965, compared with 6,200,040 in 1964. Average per capita wager was $79.33 at jockey racing and $61.17 at harness meetings.

Seat Belts
All 1961 or later model passenger cars must be equipped with front seat safety belts after March 1, 1966. The 74th General Assembly approved an act in June 1965 making installation of front seat belts mandatory. Since 1956, Illinois law has required that all new cars sold and registered in the state be equipped with seat belt anchors for the front seats.

The Department of Public Safety is required by the act to establish standards for the manufacture and installation of the safety devices. Operating 1961 and later model cars without front seat belts is a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not more than $100 for the first offense.

Lighter Hazards
A potentially dangerous cigarette lighter is being offered for sale to the public, according to Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of Public Health.

The product is an air-flame lighter that looks like a large lipstick or perfume vial. The lid comes off easily and the vapor ignites immediately on contact with air, with a flame that is almost invisible.

"The hazards of this lighter," Dr. Yoder said, "include the possibility of a child or adult opening it and being burned by the invisible flame or accidentally igniting clothing, furniture or drapes, which could lead to a full scale fire and serious or fatal burns."

The first alert on this lighter came from the Division of Accident Prevention, U. S. Public Health Service. The division reported that the lighter's fuel is methanol which, if ignited, may cause irritation of mucous membranes, headache, fatigue, unsteady gait, gastro-intestinal disturbances, including possible blindness.

The lighter has been advertised in Chicago for mail order sales from Le-Mir Products of Van Nuys, Calif.

20 New Troopers
Gov. Otto Kerner last week welcomed 20 new state troopers to state service. The group comprised the 35th class to graduate from the State Police Academy at the fairgrounds in Springfield.

New troopers serve a one-year probationary period before being certified in their positions by the State Police Merit Board.

Madison Rotarians to Hear Foreign Students

The two are doing graduate study in the United States as Rotary Foundation scholars. During their holiday season tour of the district, they have been guests of various Rotary families.

Graduation exercises for 26 auxiliary police officers are set for 7 p.m. on Jan. 4th, in Granite City civil defense headquarters, where the ceremony will be announced today by Victor H. Koenig, civil defense director. Mayor Donald Partney will be the guest speaker and award certificates.

Among rookie class members completing the ten-week basic training course are 15 Granite City men, nine auxiliaries, sponsored by the Collinsville police department, and four men from Benton.

Course instructors include Chief of Detectives George Tielzer, Detective Ronald Veech, and Patrolman Frank Harris, all from the Granite City police department; and Capt. J. H. Becker, Lt. Harold Mayfield, Lt. Raymond Newberry and Sgt. Oliver Corzine of the local auxiliary.

Most of the regular police duties were taught in the recruit training program. Chief Becker, who is also in charge of the traffic and crowd control, firearms, arrest, procedures search and seizure and police public relations courses, will also teach radiation protection and basic civil defense.

Specialized training sessions and review classes were instructed during the same period. The training sessions include City auxiliary police force. Revised plans call for the local corps to increase its force by 60 men to 1,000 by 1966, the final date in the current federal programming year.

In order to meet federal standards for civil defense auxiliaries in communities of 40,000 population, local auxiliary police units are required to train a minimum of 100 men. At present, Chief Becker related.

Notice of appeal of a series of railroad tax objection cases involving approximately $2,000,000 in protested taxes was filed with the clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court in Springfield Thursday afternoon. The notice was filed by Burton J. Bernard, Granite City attorney who has been employed by 14 of Madison county's 15 school districts to carry the fight to the high court in behalf of the Madison county state's attorney's office.

Bernard said he now has 60 days within which to file the record of past litigation and a documentary statement with the U.S. Supreme Court which then will study the record as a basis for a decision to let the Illinois Supreme Court which reversed Monrore's rulings several months ago, holding that the railroads were assessed at 100% of full cash value and therefore were entitled to refund of all protested taxes.

Largest portion of the tax funds would go to the school districts, but other taxing units of districts in which railroad property is located also would benefit. Bernard represented Madison county as a special assistant to the state's attorney in handling the cases in the circuit and Illinois Supreme Court.

Bernard resigned as assistant state's attorney on Nov. 30 but was employed by the school districts to carry the appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

County Zoning Board Sets Hearing Date

Hearings are scheduled for Jan. 11 by the Madison county Zoning Board of Appeals for two zoning change requests in the Quad-Cities area.

The first will be at 1:25 p.m. on petition of Edward L. Burton, owner, who is seeking an R-3, one family residence designation for a 27-acre tract in Chouteau township that is zoned public property since it formerly belonged to the East Side Levee & Sanitary District. The property is located on the west side of Route 3 about two miles north of Mitchell.

William Gathright, owner, is seeking a special use permit to erect a four unit apartment dwelling in a R4 one family residence area. The property is located at 202 Watson street in Eagle Park Acres. The hearing is set for 2 p.m.

The hearings will be held on the sites at the specified times.

Blood Samples Required In Traffic Fatalities

Blood samples from dead persons in auto accidents will be taken by deputy coroners, effective Jan. 1, under requirements of a new state statute signed by Gov. Kerner.

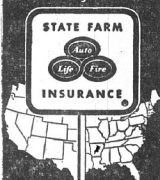

The samples will be taken from drivers, passengers or pedestrians killed in auto accidents to determine if alcohol, drugs or carbon monoxide were involved.

Blood specimens must be taken by the embalmer at a funeral home, a hospital technician or physician at the hospital before any embalming is done, Dr. W. W. Billings, county coroner said. They will be mailed to the Illinois Crime Laboratory in Chicago for analysis. Equipment and mailing tubes for specimens will be distributed to all deputy coroners.

Miscellaneous Business For Council Tonight

Miscellaneous business is on tap for tonight's 8 o'clock session of the Granite City council.

Next week the council is scheduled to operate with a strict agenda that will list in advance each item to be presented. Mayor Partney announced last week that changes on additions on the agenda will be made only upon a vote of the members. He predicted council meetings should run more smoothly under such a procedure.

The council last week referred to the Finance and Police committees an offer of $8,336 for the property owned by the city along Cedar street that will be needed for right-of-way for Federal Aid Route 191. The roadway will require removal of the concrete block firing range building. A recommendation is expected. The state highway department has offered to sell the building back to the city for $1, if the city takes on the responsibility of moving the structure.

Amendments to the subdivision control and parking restriction ordinances are expected. The council plans to require sidewalks on both sides of streets in new residential areas. It is planned to strengthen parking ordinances to permit police to issue warrants for persons who fail to pay fines for violations.

A resolution is to be prepared setting a $350 monthly salary for the deputy city clerk, Mrs. Virginia McLeister, who now is paid an hourly rate.

Capt. John Chancey Gets Bravery Award

Capt. John W. Chancey, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chancey of Route One, DeSoto, Mo., and brother of Mrs. David Bloodworth, 2026 Clark avenue, has received the U. S. Air Force Medal at Tan Son, Vietnam. Capt. Chancey, an air operations officer, received the award for bravery and achievement on hazardous flight support in combat operations.

He is a member of the highly trained 318th Air Command and Group. His C-123 Provider Unit delivered vital supplies and reinforcements to isolated outposts. They also flew special flare drop missions to illuminate night operations.

Capt. Chancey, who is well known here, having visited often at the home of his sister, is a graduate of Southern Illinois University high school and attended the university. He was commissioned in 1955 through the Aviation Cadet Program.

Smithton Woman Arrested
Susanne Wykoff, Smithton, was arrested Thursday at 20th street and Madison avenue on charges of disobeying a traffic signal light and driving while her license was suspended. She was summoned to appear for a hearing by Jan. 19.

Education In Illinois

Ray Page
Supt. of Public Instruction

BUS SAFETY
More than a million school children will be transported to and from schools in Illinois during the 1965-66 school year, in approximately 10,000 buses or vehicles either owned or under contract to school districts. Today I would like to emphasize safety measures which these children should follow.

I also would like to point out the necessity of safety measures for the more than 2,500,000 children attending public, private and parochial schools. Precautions should be made to eliminate all hazards on school properties, and special instructions provided by parents and teachers on safety rules to be followed by children who not only ride buses, but who reach school by walking, bicycling or other methods.

I would like to list some rules to be followed by children who ride buses. When waiting for a bus, stay back off the roadway until the bus comes to a full stop. Use the handrail on boarding or leaving the bus. Remain seated until you reach your destination. Keep books and packages on your lap or under the seat, never in the aisle. Avoid loud talking or active play. Be absolutely quiet at railroad crossings. Comply with instructions from the driver and school bus patrol. If there is an accident, do not do your homework or eat breakfast on the bus. Never stick your head, arm or any part of your body out a window. When reaching destination, leave the bus quickly and quietly without crowding. Do not linger at the loading zone. In case of emergency, remain in the bus until instructions are given by the driver. Never tamper with the bus or any of its equipment.

Calling All Home Makers

By Aaron Fredman

DON'T BLOCK THE PATH

Occasionally, you bring your interior decorating hints, and here at 800 E. about furniture arrangement that a lot of people overlook.

There is nothing more difficult than walking through a living room and banging your shin on the sharp edge of a misplaced coffee table.

Remember that most rooms lead to somewhere else and you must have free movement within a room with clear access through it.

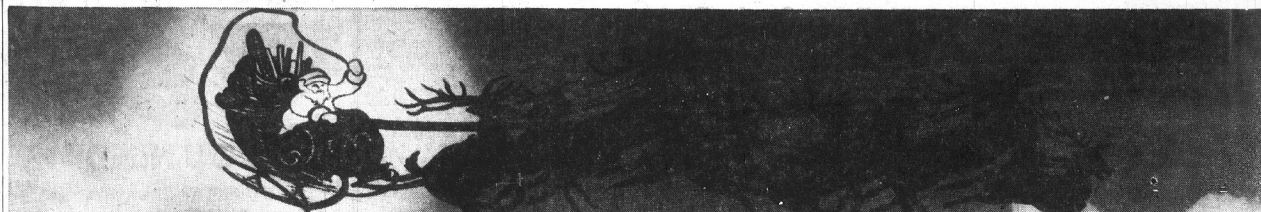

The furniture in too many rooms is arranged like an obstacle course. This does not mean that you should line all your furniture up against the walls. Actually it is very possible and not difficult to maintain all of the elements of good arrangement and still provide easy access through and within each room.

Don't block entrances and exits. Place chairs close enough apart to allow plenty of leg room.

Arrange coffee tables close enough to sofas and chairs to be useful but far enough away to permit free passage between the tables and furniture pieces.

And, many people make the mistake of using too large a dining room table in a small dining room that when you try to sit down at the table, you find yourself pulling the chairs up against the wall. Better use a smaller table with larger extension leaves.

So, remember, when shopping, our decorating and sales staff here at Fredman Bros. Furniture, Inc., in Granite City, is always ready to serve you. We are open Monday, Thursday and Friday night until 8:30 p.m., other nights until 8:00 p.m.

5 DAYS ONLY END OF YEAR CLEARANCE

Drastic Markdowns in Every Department! Just a Few Listed Below. Hundreds More in the Store. It's a Savings Spectacular. So come Early! It's been a lovely year and we hope our customers are enjoying the holidays as much as we have. Over the weekend we relaxed and rested up after the greatest Christmas Sale in our history. But last night it was back to business! In every business there are always a few leftovers and odds-and-ends but after a sale such as we have just ended our store is loaded with one-a-kind and odd pieces. This merchandise must be cleaned out before the end of the year inventory so that our stock can be balanced and we can have room for new merchandise. At this point we are not interested in cost or the regular selling price of merchandise. Thanks to your support we already have reached our goal for the year and any extra profit would only have to be paid out in taxes. Now the important thing is to balance our inventory and the only way to do that is to make the price so appealing that the Bargain Hunters will come flocking. This is what we plan to do this week so remember, if you're looking for Bargain Buys, the time is now and the place is Fredman Bros. for savings like these and many more.

Cherokee Indian Devised Phonetic Alphabet

John W. Allen
Southern Illinois University

For a few months during the winter of 1838-1839 the southern five counties of Illinois had what was perhaps their greatest Indian population. It may seem strange that such could be true at so late a time. But, that was the time when several thousand of the Cherokee were about midway on their "Trail of Tears." They were being removed from their homeland in the Great Smokies to Indian Territory.

The story of their sad journey always has been interesting. From time to time something occurs to renew that interest and to attach the story to southern Illinois. This time several incidents are combined. One was when an account of their forcible removal was read in the school. Next, it was called to attention that a one-time good friend, C. C. Logan, once a member of Southern's faculty, was a Cherokee Indian.

Back home and stirring among old newspapers, a strange appearing one was found. It was a reproduction of Volume 1, Number 1 of the Cherokee Phoenix, dated Feb. 21, 1828. It was published at the Cherokee town of Echata until suppressed by the state of Georgia on May 31, 1834.

Attention immediately was centered upon the strange alphabet, and upon the man who devised it. The whole story becomes of even greater interest when it is considered that it was the one word or rather invention of an illiterate Indian named Sequoyah (Indian name Silkwara). He also was called George Guess or Gist.

The alphabet he made is distinctly a phonetic one, consisting of 86 characters, one to represent each elementary sound of their language. This alphabet easily qualifies as one of the most efficient ones ever devised by man. Some say without qualification the most efficient.

This Indian, though not able to read in any language, nor to speak English, had somehow arrived at the idea that printed or written papers were "talking leaves" and set about having them "talk" Cherokee.

Having been crippled in a hunting accident, Sequoyah turned his attention to devising an alphabet for his nation's language. He received no help or encouragement, but did receive much ridicule and attempts to discourage him. Told that he was making a fool of himself, he replied that his alphabet would not make fools of the Cherokee.

Despite criticism, indifference, and open opposition, Sequoyah completed his self-appointed task in 12 years.

The alphabet he invented was in use early in 1825, three years before the "Cherokee Phoenix" was established. Within a very short time it made the Cherokee a literate nation. Many books and tracts were printed. It was used in promotion of the church. By 1843 it is said that a total of 4 million pages had been printed in Cherokee, the equivalent of some 13 thousand ordinary sized books.

The Cherokee and Sequoyah are of more than passing interest to southern Illinois. Sequoyah made several journeys through that portion of the Cherokee nation that first went to Indian Territory and those remaining in the Great Smokies. It is reported that on one of these trips he stayed for a time near Cape Girardeau, Mo., thus indicating that he passed through southern Illinois. Thousands of his nation followed the same trail, many perishing within the state.

These migrating Indians cherished their printing press and accordingly carried it along in a wagon. It is known that the press started with them but did not reach the land to which they were going. Their privations, suffering and losses at the Dutch Creek Camp in Union county suggest to many that the press probably was abandoned there. The writer has a vague, vague hope that someone prowling about their old camp site on Dutch Creek may find bits of a badly rusted printing press.

Sequoyah lived until 1843 when he died and was buried at San Fernando, Mexico, where he had gone to introduce his alphabet to a group of Cherokee that had settled there. Many believe that Sequoyah's contribution to the American Indian was greater than that made by any other member of his race.

His greatness has been recognized. The Sequoyah trees are named for him. Schools have borne his name, also parks, state and national. His statue is in the rotunda of our national capital. His bronze bust is in the Hall of Fame for Famous American Indians at Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

His "talking leaves" made a people literate, perhaps more so than has ever been done for another people in an equal length of time.

Judge Orders Special Juvenile Policemen

Police and county sheriff's departments are to appoint a special juvenile officer or officers where possible to comply with the new Illinois Juvenile Court Act effective Jan. 1; Associate Judge Michael Kinney, in charge of the family division of circuit court, is announcing.

He suggested a full-time officer to work in daylight hours and to be on call 24 hours a day. He said a special study will be made by the special officers to exchange ideas on the best means of implementing the act. The county probation department staff will assist.

Some cities in the county already have a special juvenile police officer.

Madison county Sheriff Barney Frankfort, who established a juvenile department with a special officer in Madison while he was police chief, said he is for the plan but has asked the state's attorney's office for an opinion on who will pay the salary involved.

Sponsored by Cooks and Waitresses Union, Local 461, the program also will include pertinent information on registration procedures for those eligible to participate in the Medicare program. Mrs. Helen Peters, Local 461 business agent and Mrs. Mary Mortenson, secretary, are in charge of arrangements.

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

"Have in you the mind that was also in Christ Jesus."

This church is so organized and shepherded towards that very purpose thru these purposeful organizations and activities for all age groups: Worship services, five circles of United Presbyterian Women, United Presbyterian Men, Couple groups of Mariners and the Seafarers, Church School classes for all ages—primary, intermediate, junior, senior and adult classes for men and women, Junior High Youth Group, Senior High Youth Group, choir, Girl Choristers, Boy Scouts, Girl Cadettes. There is the visitation of the sick, shut-ins, key cheer groups, and availability of consultation with the pastor. Support is given to Christian Colleges, Orphanages, Welfare and missions for the aged—to which 23 per cent of the budget in tithes and offerings is designated.

This glorious effort for God is made possible by the Christian support in time and money by its 1100 adult members and 400 youths of this church. This church is staffed by the pastor, secretary, 21 elders, 21 deacons, 21 deaconess, 21 trustees, and scores of youth and adult leaders.

GREETINGS AND CHEER to all, and especially to the sick, shut-ins, lonely, those with seemingly insurmountable problems, and loved ones far from home.

JOIN THE CHURCH. ATTEND THE SERVICES. READ THE BIBLE AND PRAY DAILY IN THE NEW YEAR. IT CAN MAKE LIFE MEANINGFUL.

Engelke to Accompany Foreign Trade Mission

Wilbert Engelke, Granite City area farmer, will be among participants in the Illinois Farm Bureau's second foreign trade development mission to the Mediterranean countries which leaves on Jan. 4.

The group will fly from Chicago to Athens, Greece, to begin three weeks of intensive promotional efforts aimed at finding new buyers for Illinois-produced products, particularly those from the Far East. Trade meetings are scheduled for Greece, Lebanon, Israel, Italy, Spain and Portugal.

As a gesture of good will, trade development mission participants will present registered bull calves to a cooperative in Spain and to a vocational agriculture school in Greece. Calves also will be presented to organizations or institutions in Italy and Portugal, providing import barriers can be penetrated.
